

Climate Solutions Mapping Project

Help us put Maine's climate solutions initiatives on the map!

The Climate Solutions Expo and Summit at the Augusta Civic Center in March, 2014, was a showcase for many of the creative projects in Maine that are working to reduce our dependence on fossil fuels and to assist Maine communities build resilience and sustainability in the face of global warming.

Now we need you to help put them, and many more, on the map!

The Climate Solutions Mapping Project seeks to collect and compile information on climate solutions efforts, to provide Maine citizens and groups with a central, one-stop resource that covers the entire spectrum of politics, civic organizations, higher education, public education, religion, government, and business.

We will use that data to create and maintain a searchable, collaborative, web-based interactive map.

Our goals:

- To enable existing initiatives to communicate, coordinate, and collaborate, so that we may more efficiently and effectively move forward on our individual projects.
- To make concerned citizens aware of existing initiatives and to promote their engagement in climate solutions.

Join us as we leverage the great work already happening in Maine.
